I am very sad to hear about this... I just do not even know what to say... I am so very sorry and send all my love and hopes for Kenny, Paula and the rest of the family! It is funny how certain people stick in your mind from your childhood. You know those individuals contributed to making you who you are today.. and both EDDIE and Kenny have always come into my thoughts~ May you rest in peace Eddie!(A funny story I would like to share) Eddie rode his bike to my house while my parents were not home, I would not let him come in cause my mother would surely be so very mad if she caught him. SO we talked through the sliding glass door in the back yard. All of a sudden we seen headlights coming down the driveway, I thought Eddie was going to pee his pants. He ran through the backyard and over the back fence. Leaving his bike behind in the front yard of course. So when my mom seen the bike, she knew exactly who it was. She went running to the back yard and kept calling "Eddie come out come out where ever you are." Little did she know he was already far away... It is funny now to think about it but then I think we were both scared to death. I did not get to see or talk to him for two weeks after that. So many memories... Makes me smile.
