Lucrezia B. DiPaolo

MAR 29, 1931 - SEP 10, 2020

Lucrezia Beatrice DiPaolo was born in Bronx, New York to a large Italian Family. Ever since she was a little girl she has always been family oriented. She was a loving, caring, supportive, creative, and an innovative first generation Italian American woman.

She was passionate about sewing, cooking, crochet and Italian Family Traditions which she shared with all of her children, grand children, great grand children and great great grandchild. Another passion she had most don't know about was writing poems. She wrote numerous poems throughout her life and they are all pretty good. Her hidden passion.

She was a friend to everyone, and shared her positive outlook on life with anyone. She was known for her inspirational notes written on the many cards she sent to all of us throughout the years, never missing a birthday.

She was an early entrepreneur and ran several 'small businesses' some of which were a telephone answering service, deli, bakery and many real estate properties.

She will be greatly missed by her family and friends but her traditions and spirit will live on in the many gifts she taught us. She was a strong, determined and fiercely independent woman. She led by example. There was never a job to large or to small that she would not tackle.

I'm sure you will agree, She will be missed by family and numerous friends.

Fino a quando ci incontriamo di nuovo, ti amo.

(Italian- "Until we meet again, I love you"!

The family will receive friends 10 am – 12 pm Wednesday at Gentry-Morrison Funeral Home, 3350 Mall Hill Dr., Lakeland. A Mass of Christian Burial will follow at 1 pm at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, 820 Marcum Rd, Lakeland.

I dont know what to say it just doesn't feel real. I looked for you in your room yesterday just to remember you are not there and it finally hit me. I will only see you again one sweet day in heaven. I will never forget how your face would light up when you saw me and how you always called me " my maria." I am yours and you will always be my grandma. You helped me become the self sufficient woman. I am. You were always proud of me even when I messed up. I always needed you and I need you now to tell me it will all be alright. You have always been my rock and your smile took any sadness away. I will remember your stories, songs, games, and how you made me remember all the states in america. I also remember when you would brush my long hair, put olive oil in it and hit me with the brush if I flinched lol. The point is you were the best and treated everyone with respect and love. I hope I can be just like you. I will miss you and always keep you close to me in my heart. Be with you family in heaven and rejoice.
