“ From badminton tournaments that she let me play even though I was terrible and trying to explain pinochle (that to this day I still don't understand), and pizza in front of the downstairs television, my memories of Melody always include her beautiful smile. I will be eternally grateful that she welcomed me in like a fourth child and put up with my shenanigans (which she knew were many). I can hear her laughing at that last sentence as I write it and that makes me smile. Thanks Melody. You'll be missed.

“ Melody came from a loving family. We all were close growing up. Family was so important in our little town in Pa. I actually grew up with her sister and brother Sandra and Neil.
We had many fun times together. Memories that I will treasure forever. God Bless her family at this sad time.

“ Melody and I were good friends in high school. I remember her smile and laughter plus her love for Steffan. Our staying in touch over the years was sporadic but I do know she enjoyed life, loved teaching, and her family. Our sympathy and prayers for her family and friends...remember grief is the price one pays for loving another... forever...Lois (May) and Andy Swestyn, St. Augustine, Florida

“ I have so many wonderful memories that I shared with Melody, working together, having lunch together, even working out together at The Body Mall. But my favorite memory was our vacation together at Rehoboth Beach. So much fun, starting our days eating brownies for breakfast, gift shopping and buying the goofiest fun glasses that we would wear while laying out on the beach and laughing at the reactions from people passing by. She had such an infectious laugh, she'd start laughing and before long we'd both be in tears and our sides would be sore from laughing so hard. I will truly miss my great friend, but I will hold on to the memories forever.

To Stefan, Bryan, Lee, Marisa and all of Melody's family, my thoughts and prayers are with you all.

To Melody, rest easy my friend, I love you.

“ I didn't get to know Mel as well as I would have liked. We worked together for a couple of years but never socially. But she was the kind of friend who you will always remember. She just smiled the way into your heart.

“ It was absolutely devastating to learn of Grammy's passing. She was one of the most caring women I have ever met and will ever know. She is one of my favorite people and I will miss her every day. I see her in pieces of every day and I know that her memory will live on through our family who loved her deeply. I will miss her for every birthday phone call, Christmas, thanksgiving, family cookout, big event, and sunrise forever.

My favorite memories with her were when Lauren and I were young and she would read us the Magic Treehouse book series before bed when we were younger. Grammy would sing to herself and us when we were younger. When we would go to Disney she would love to watch the parades, then sing and dance with the characters.

I love Grammy and know that she was a truly amazing person who would have wanted nothing but the best for all of her friends and family. I would give anything to have one last phone call with her but I know that she is in a much better place now with all of those she loves.

“ To all the loved ones of Melody, I was deeply saddened when I heard that Melody was in the hospital. When she passed so unexpectedly, I just was overwhelmed at the news. I really can't express my feelings enough to everyone. However, I think back to how I have known Melody and Brenda since we were about 5 years old. Although years had passed and distance in miles separated us, we managed to still keep in touch and know each others' families and happenings. To me, Melody was like another sister growing up. Brenda and I spent just about every day together growing up and I can guarantee that we, the younger sister and her friend, most likely annoyed her to no end. Yet, she never was mean to us and tolerated us getting into her toys or teasing her back then. I distinctly remember Brenda and I trying to grab Melody's original Barbie Dolls and play with them. However, we weren't exactly gentle with them but Melody still shared them with us. She was a good big sister and friend. I recall Melody being very talented and played the piano so nice. I always enjoyed visiting their house just to listen to the music that Melody filled the house with. Later in life, after we all were married for a few years, my husband went overseas and I moved back to Pa for that year with my young boys. Melody happened to be visiting our small town and heard I was renting a place for the year nearby. She visited me with her three children, who were all young at the time. It really lifted my spirits to have them visit and her three played so nicely with my boys who were 4 and 2 at the time. They were such nice and polite kids and I hated for them to leave. Everyone is grown now but that day really sticks out as a highlight of that lonely year when my husband was overseas. So nearly 40 years later, sending cards and texting over the time, I really feel like I lost a sister, also, when Melody passed. My love to all of the family and prayers go out to you all but know that she was welcomed into a Higher Place with God and the other relatives and friends we all have lost over these years. Amber Kuper - September 05, 2021 at 02:38 PM

“ Aunt Melody was such an important part of our lives. When we would get together she would always reminisce about the old days. I loved her stories because she would get so energetic and animated telling them. My personal favorite was a story about a chicken that I would always ask her tell. I loved it because she would laugh so hard and her laugh was so infectious and distinct that it made everyone in the room roar with laughter.

She was at my side during so many important moments in my life - both good and bad. And when she couldn't be there in person, I knew she was just a phone call away cheering me on, celebrating, or sharing my frustrations on bad days.

I have so many fond memories of outings with her and my mom and meaningful conversations we had together. She had a positive impact on my life and for that I will always be grateful.

May her time that was cut short with us here be a reminder to us all to not take any day for granted and to be present with our loved ones. I feel her spirit living on around us all and I hope that we can all find some comfort in this difficult time.
